

The diagram shows a floor plan of two adjacent rooms. The left room is labeled 'Franklin Room' and the right room is labeled 'William Penn Room'. A vertical dashed line separates the two rooms. The top wall of both rooms features a series of rectangular protrusions. The bottom wall has a central protrusion with a door opening to the right, and two side protrusions, each with a door opening to the left. The left side of the Franklin Room has a complex, irregular boundary with several protrusions and indentations.
